SUMMARY

Skilled creative professional experienced in the ideation, management, and implementation of highly effective and emotionally engaging consumer based marketing campaigns. I lead and manage projects that cover the full spectrum of consumer engagement from awareness to loyalty.

Determined to continuously push my own standards and capabilities, I am dedicated to establishing and maintaining long-lasting relationships with the clients and brands that I have worked with. A problem solver to the end, I like to push ideas to their limit to produce the best creative solutions while delivering on all levels from concept to production to a wide variety of client business.

I do all this with passion, professionalism, diplomacy and a great sense of humor.
